Top in-house counsel recognised at the 11th annual Lexology and International Law Office Global Counsel Awards in association with the Association of Corporate Counsel

London, United Kingdom – Lexology and the International Law Office (ILO), together with the Association of Corporate Counsel (ACC), hosted the 11th annual Global Counsel Awards in New York’s magnificent Cipriani 42nd Street last night. The gala event celebrated the achievements of in-house counsel recognised by their peers as excelling in their chosen fields. This year’s event was attended by 400 senior lawyers from across the world, including in-house counsel from more than 100 companies.

As Veta T Richardson, president and chief executive officer at the ACC, explained:

“There are many ways to generate value when working in-house, but the true leaders are those who combine their legal skills with more intangible attributes such as effective communication, efficiency, commercial awareness and an ability to innovate.”

To identify the winners, the research team conducted in-depth analysis of in-house lawyers and legal departments worldwide, receiving more than 4,000 nominations globally. Respondents were asked to focus on criteria such as effective communication, legal understanding, commercial awareness, depth and strength of team, and management skills. The following awards were presented: Competition, Corporate Tax, Employment, General Commercial, Intellectual Property, Litigation, M&A, Regulatory (Financial and Non-financial), Rising Star, Compliance Innovator of the Year, Thought Leader of the Year and Lifetime Achievement.

John Harrison of Airbus Group was named General Counsel of the Year after receiving multiple individual nominations from colleagues and partners at leading law firms. One respondent enthused:

“He leads by example and he exemplifies what it means to be a leading General Counsel of a multi-national company in an interconnected world. John combines great legal and business skills, which are these days key to mastering the art of being a general counsel and commanding respect from both the Airbus management team and his legal team.”

The event sponsors were Arnold & Porter Kaye Scholer LLP; Baker McKenzie; Blake Cassels & Graydon LLP; Bryan Cave LLP; Cahill Gordon & Reindel LLP; CMS Hasche Sigle; Dentons; Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP; Hunton & Williams LLP; K&L Gates; Kirkland & Ellis LLP; McDermott Will & Emery; McGuireWoods LLP; Paul Hastings LLP; Reed Smith LLP; Seyfarth Shaw LLP; Sullivan & Cromwell LLP; Weil Gotshal & Manges LLP and Winstead PC.

About ILO

Launched in 1998, ILO is the nexus where global corporate counsel engage with the world's pre-eminent law firms, and each other. The ILO brand encompasses:

- A multifaceted online resource for senior international corporate counsel, which provides tailored, quality-assured updates on global legal developments and a comprehensive directory of firms and partners.
- A global awards programme that identifies in-house corporate counsel, both teams and individuals, who excel in their specific roles. The awards culminate each year in four of the largest annual gatherings of senior corporate counsel, with prestigious ceremonies in Hong Kong, Latin America, London and New York.

Recognising its unique relationship with global corporate counsel, many of the world's premier associations have chosen to partner with ILO. www.InternationalLawOffice.com/Partners>About
